

POPE'S CONDITION REPORTED IMPROVED

Pope Pius X.

Bulletin.

Rome, April 10.—Pope Pius rallied considerably this afternoon and talked with Cardinal Merry del Val. He said he was determined to recover and would be well in time to personally celebrate Pentecostal mass in St. Peter's May 11 in honor of Constantine year. *

Rome, April 10.—The condition of Pope Pius was apparently unchanged today after a restless night, though his fever has disappeared and his temperature is normal.

Prof. Marchiafava, chief of the Vatican physicians, declares he is suffering from nothing more serious than influenza, but his refusal to follow their advice has caused his slow recovery.

The Pope is so weakened that the doctors today forbade his sisters to talk to him. He has not slept normally for 48 hours and his insomnia alarms the doctors almost as much as his weak heart action.

Mr. Huerta and Felix Diaz are regularly notifying the reporters that they love each other. If we had to be living in Mexico City, we would surely rent a shell-proof cellar right away.
